Instructions:

- ① A square piece of paper with a dashed diagonal line from the top-left to the bottom-right corner. A curved arrow indicates a clockwise fold along this diagonal.
- ② The paper is now a right-angled triangle. A curved arrow indicates a clockwise fold along the hypotenuse.
- ③ The paper is now a smaller right-angled triangle. A curved arrow indicates a clockwise fold along the hypotenuse.
- ④ The paper is now a very small right-angled triangle. A curved arrow indicates a clockwise fold along the hypotenuse.
- ⑤ The paper is now a tiny right-angled triangle. A curved arrow indicates a clockwise fold along the hypotenuse.
- ⑥ A pair of scissors is shown cutting along the outer edge of the tiny triangle to create the final snowflake shape.
